

Come buy my cherries

from Jane Chattock's book 1832

anon.

(original in C)

$\bullet = 90$

1
Come buy my cher-ries, beau - te - ous lass-es, fresh from the gar - den, picked ³ by me.

2
*
Fine ap - ples and choice pears: come, boys, for - get your cares.

3
Fruit in a-bun-dance sold by me, fruit in a-bundance here you see.

4
Whey, fine sweet whey. Come, taste my whey.

1
All on a sum-mer's day so gay you hear theDub-lin cries: knives ground here by me.

2
All on a sum-mer's day so gay you hear theDub-lin cries: sweep, sweep, sweep, sweep.

3
All on a sum-mer's day so gay you hear theDub-lin cries: fine pars-nips, finecar-rots and choice beans.

4
All on a sum-mer's day so gay you hear theDub-lin cries: fine rad-ish, fine let-tuce sold by me.

Each voice sings the lines in order 1,2,3,4. A new part enters when the preceding part reaches *

The octave F in bar 8 of line 2 is obviously only feasible with at least two singers per part.
There are two alternative sets of notes in bar 2 of line 4.