

Psalm 149

text by Jennifer Bell
after Cornelius Becker

music by Heinrich Schütz

Hal - le - lu! Hal - le - lu - jah! Sing to the Lord a new — song.
For the Lord takes his pleas - ure lift - ing high those of low de - gree,
God will work out his ven - geance on the na - tions that rage in vain,

3

Let the faith - ful lift up the prais - es which un - to Him be - long.
looks up - on them with fav - or and a - dorns them with vic - tor - y.
bind the ty - rants in fet - ters, bind the no - bles in i - ron chains,

Let the child - ren of Zi - on praise their mak - er and King.
Let the faith - ful de - light in all the Lord God has planned.
give the judg - ment as writ - ten, grant the just - ice as due.

7

With the dance, with the tim - brel, and with the harp His prais - es sing.
Let God's prais - es be in their mouth, and a sword be in — their hand.
This is Is - ra - el's glo - ry. Sing hal - le - lu - jah! Hal - le - lu!
